FAIR GROUP LOOKS TOWARD PERMANENT LOCATION FOR BIGGER SHOW NEXT YEAR

A permanent location for the Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community fair and a bigger and more varied program for 1950 were discussed at a meeting of the board of directors of the fair association held Wednesday evening in Porterville.

Several possible locations were considered and during the next two weeks, directors will inspect them to form opinions as to suitability.

In addition, directors will lay initial plans for permanent fair facilities that can be expanded as need develops through the years.

With the fat stock sale of the second annual Tulare County

Forrest Martin Gets Arabian

Forrest Martin is today the owner of a registered Arabian yearling stallion, as the result of having been high point winner in the junior horse show that was the concluding feature of the second annual Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community fair on the Porterville high school grounds last Saturday.

Mr. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Martin, Porterville, topped some 50 other junior riders to win the Arabian which was donated by Jones Hardware company of Porterville and which came from the stables of Donald Jones of Porterville, one of the leading Arabian horse breeders of the nation.

Canterbelles

Initial public appearance of the Canterbelles highlighted the horse show, this precision riding team of 24 girls from 10 to 18 years of age going through their intricate drill in excellent fashion.

The group was under the direction of Toni Faure and is sponsored by the Porterville High School P.T.A. and the community fair directors.

YOUNG FARMER BANQUET SET FOR JUNE 3

Annual banquet of the Porterville chapter of the California Young Farmers, with fathers of members as guests, will be held the evening of June 3 in the Porterville high school cafeteria.

Speaker of the evening will be Rodgers L. Moore, 1st district supervisor who will discuss problems related to Tulare county administration. Chairman of the evening will be Guido Lombardi, Young Farmer president.

The organization of California Young Farmers was formed as a group to assist young men leaving high school or college in getting started on farming projects.

Membership is composed of young men up to age of 30 years who are interested in or are actively engaged in agriculture.

Junior Livestock Show and Community fair turning out highly successful last Saturday, directors, at the Wednesday evening meeting went on record as limiting the 1950 sale to 20 steers, 10 hogs and 10 lambs.

Other business included a general discussion of this year's fair and the presentation of a partial financial report. A full report on income and expenditures of the fair association will be published when completed.

The second annual livestock show and fair, held last Friday and Saturday on the Porterville high school grounds in conjunction with the school Patrons' day, featured excellent exhibits of student work, a colorful display of citrus fruits, commercial displays of Porterville merchants, the largest display of farm implements seen since the war in Tulare county, exhibits of livestock, poultry, rabbits and pigeons, displays of cars and trucks, a cooking school, a farm implement show, a pet show and parade, a "million dollar" livestock parade and a junior horse show.

Second Year

The Porterville fair was started two years ago by a Porterville chamber of commerce committee. This year, the organization was changed into an association, with nine directors: Arthur K. Hodgson, Rolla Bishop, Cyrille Faure, Vernon Gill, Joe Menne, Freeland Farnsworth, Allan Coates, Chester Gilbert and Bill Rodgers. A number of other individuals and a number of organizations assisted in the staging of the 1949 show.

The fair is operating on its own without the state financial assistance that goes to district fairs and no salaries are paid in connection with the fair. Exhibitors this year were limited to the Porterville high school district, however, directors hope that additional facilities in 1950 will allow inclusion of a wider area.

Another Arabian For Next Year

The third annual, 1950 Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community fair received a real boost this week when Donald Jones, Arabian horse breeder of Porterville, offered to again donate a purebred Arabian colt to the rider who next year wins the most points in the junior horse show that will feature the fair.

Mr. Jones this year presented a registered Arabian yearling stallion to Forrest Martin of Porterville, winner of this year's show, with Jones Hardware company actually donating the colt.

FAIR PICTURES

Pictures of grand champion livestock winners of the second annual Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community fair appear on pages 6 and 7 of this issue of The Farm Tribune. "Thank you" announcements from Miss Sandra Farnsworth and from the Ducor 4-H club appear on Page 4.

JUNIOR FAT STOCK SALE HAS CROWD CHEERING

One of the best junior fat stock sales in the southern San Joaquin valley in recent years—a sale that had the crowd cheering as if they were at a ball game—highlighted the second annual Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community fair last Saturday on the Porterville high school grounds, with sale total amounting to $8,186.79 and with fat steers bringing an average of nine cents over market.

Grand champion steer, a Polled Hereford, shown by Miss Sandra Farnsworth of the Ducor 4-H club, was purchased by Gang Sue, of the Chinese Tea Garden of Porterville at a price of 43 cents per pound.

Grand champion fat barrow, a Poland China, exhibited by Allan Wheaton, Porterville Future Farmer, also went to the Chinese Tea Garden for 40 cents per pound and grand champion lamb, exhibited by Norma Olsen, Ducor 4-H club was sold to Joe Faure, of Porterville, for $1.05 per pound.

The sale, handled by Vince Powers, auctioneer, and Bud Jackson, of the California Farm Bureau Marketing association, moved rapidly and bidding was brisk throughout.

Other stock sold included: Paul Gerdes, FFA champion Hereford, 30½ cents, J. J. Newberry Co.; Dale Gill, 4-H reserve champion Shorthorn, 37 cents, B-J Farm Service and Commercial Tire Service; Joleen Flynn, 4-H champion Angus, 33 cents, Porterville Monumental works; Walter Hunsaker, first place Shorthorn, 36 cents, Ayers Hill, Madera, and Herman Matzke; John Trimmell, 4-H, first place Angus, 32 cents, Anselmo Drive-In; G. YOU CAN ALWAYS ADD A ROOM

"HOMES that can grow" are becoming increasingly popular. It is not always possible to know that your home plan of today will fit your needs of tomorrow. You can, however, select a plan that allows for expansion—a plan that retains beauty of design when a room or wing is added.

Most of these "growing plans" feature wood construction. Wood is the basic building material that can provide the individuality, warmth, and hospitality you so desire in your home. At the same time, you are assured that additions and alterations can be made easily and economically.

These very practical considerations have brought into existence the finest, most liveable, homes in the world. So when you build your home, be sure it is built of West Coast wood.

See us today for helpful building advice.

Jersey Cattle Club Award To D. Clinkenbeard

D. Clinkenbeard, Porterville Future Farmer, was awarded a model Jersey cow by the Tulare-Kings County Jersey Cattle club as a result of his having shown the grand champion Jersey female in the second annual Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community fair last Saturday.

The presentation was made through Chester Gilbert, head of show's dairy division, and prominent Tulare county Jersey Breeder himself.

Walker And Lentine Show Top Rabbits

Majority of ribbons offered in the junior section of the rabbit division in the second annual Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community fair went to Howard Allen Walker, a Future Farmer, and to Robert Lentine, a 4-H club member from the Terra Bella district.

Judging the junior division rabbits was George Sears, of Terra Bella, who was also head of the rabbit division for the show.

Larry Lybarger won first place with his senior New Zealand buck and George Williams won first on senior New Zealand buck and junior New Zealand buck.

Water May Reach Tulare Lake Bed During Late Spring

The possibility of runoff water reaching the Tulare lake bed during the late spring of this year is seen by various agencies of the United States government interested in water surveys.

In a report from the Interior Department Geologic survey, it is stated that "In the south end of the San Joaquin valley, with no storage available on the Kings, Kaweah and Tule rivers, indications are that some excess water will reach the Tulare lake basin."

The Agriculture department's soil conservation service reports that the Sierra snow pack is "satisfactory" and that "overall runoff will average 90 per cent of normal, which should provide a water supply sufficient for all reasonable uses of agriculture and industry."

PROBLEMS

A priority of construction and improvement of facilities at Porterville Union High school and methods of financing these items—by bond issue or special tax—were discussed Monday evening at a meeting of a school district advisory committee and members of the board of trustees of the Porterville High School district, held in the school cafeteria.

Members of the advisory committee agreed to further discuss school building and financing problems with other residents of the school district and gather information concerning opinions on the matters for presentation at the next meeting of the group, date of which will be announced in the future.

Water District

Date for final public hearing on proposed formation of the Porterville Irrigation district, generally including the area west of the Porterville populated area and east of Italy road, was set this week by the Tulare county board of supervisors as June 7.

The action was taken following a report by State Engineer Edward Hyatt in which he stated, in part: "It is my conclusion that formation of the proposed district is feasible and I therefore recommend that an election on formation of a district be authorized by your honorable board on final hearing of the petition."

If no serious objection to district formation is voiced at the June 7 hearing, it is expected that the board of supervisors will set a date for an election on district formation.

$60,000 In Planning Funds For Success

Indications now are that money appropriated for the Success dam project on the Tule river will amount to $60,000 for the present year, this amount to be used for "planning" work.

Terminus dam on the Kaweah river will probably receive the same amount. "Planning" appropriations are usually forerunners of eventual construction appropriations.

JERSEY BULL SALE REPORTED

A two-year-old Jersey bull, Sporting Marquis Lad, has been sold by Art A. Jenkins, of Tulare, to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bare of Traver. The animal is by Rita Sporting Marquis, classified "very good," and his dam is Messiah Xenia Clara, classified "very good," with a record of 500 pounds of butterfat for a 305 day milking period.

Senator Clinton Anderson has introduced a bill in congress that would give the secretary of agriculture almost complete control over all private and public forest lands.

Water problems of California will be investigated by a retired general of the army corps of engineers, Phillip S. Burton, who has been employed by the California Farm Bureau federation.

SERVICE FOR ADA F. BREY HELD YESTERDAY

Funeral service was held yesterday at the Myers chapel for Ada Frances Lackey Brey, a pioneer civic and church leader of Porterville and a resident of the community for the past 58 years. Mrs. Brey died at her home on north D street in Porterville last Monday afternoon.

Daughter of the late Albert and Almira Lackey, Mrs. Brey was born on Christmas day, 1860, in Virginia City, Nevada, being the second white child born in that community. She was married to the late Hiram F. Brey in 1890 and came to Porterville during that year.

Mrs. Brey was an early worker in the First Congregational church of Porterville and later assisted with organization of and became active in the St. John's Episcopal church. She was a member of Palm Leaf Chapter No. 114, Order of Eastern Star, helping instigate the chapter when it was organized, having been a member of the Reno, Nevada chapter where she served as Worthy Matron prior to her affiliation with the Porterville chapter.

She was a member of the Inter Se Circle since 1893 and, with the late Mrs. Fred Velie, was instrumental in having trees planted at the Vine street school in Porterville and in improving the city park on south Main street.

Surviving are two daughters, Marie Brey and Alberta Brey; a brother, A. W. Lackey of Bakersfield and a number of nieces and nephews. Cremation at the Chapel of the Light in Fresno followed the Porterville funeral service.

STATE CITRUS PRODUCERS MEET IN PORTERVILLE

State delegates of the California Citrus Producers association will meet in Porterville next Friday, May 27, for an all-day session to discuss problems of the citrus industry and to participate in a mass meeting of Tulare county growers. The latter session slated for 8 o'clock in the Porterville city hall.

The business session of the organization will be held in the banquet room of Berkshire's Palm cafe. All growers of the community are invited to attend the evening meeting to hear reports on actions of the association concerning grower problems.

ELECTION

School elections are being held today in the elementary districts of Ducor, Pixley, Porterville, Woodville, Saucelito and Starthmore and in high school district of Porterville.

In the Porterville elementary district, Incumbent Les Hamilton and William Cloer, are seeking office and running for the Porterville high school district board are Incumbents Vernon Gill and Emory Kincaid, and Jack Anglin.

Next Tuesday, May 24, three directors-at-large will be elected for the Woodville Public Utility district. No candidates filed for the offices, consequently all balloting will be by write-in.

Superintendent

J. Post Williams has been appointed Tulare county Superintendent of schools to succeed T. R. Nickel, who recently resigned, the appointment being made by the county board of supervisors.

Mr. Williams has been a general supervisors in the superintendent's office for the past year. He was one of three applicants with the necessary administrative credentials to hold the job.

Disaster Loans For Farmers

An explanation of administration of a program through which California farmers, whose assets were destroyed during the recent freezing weather may obtain aid, has been released by Thomas H. Werdel, member of congress from the 10th district that includes Tulare County.

Mr. Werdel's explanation is taken from a communication to him from Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan.

"The primary purpose of the program, pursuant to Public Law 38, 81st Congress, is the extending of credit, in designated disaster areas, to farmers and stockmen who have suffered damage as a result of a production disaster, and who are unable to obtain credit from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies, or other responsible sources.

Disaster loans may be made for essential agricultural purposes (including farm and home operating expenses. These loans will bear interest at the rate of 3 per cent per annum on the unpaid principal, and will be scheduled for repayment over a minimum period of consistent with the borrower's anticipated ability to repay.

Repayments will be scheduled in at least annual installments when it appears that the applicant will be able to meet such payments from income. However, it is realized that this cannot always be done and provisions are made for scheduling the first repayment at the end of the second year following the date of the loan when such action is made necessary by the applicant's anticipated income.

Also, in unusual situations, the first repayment may be deferred for a longer period on an individual case basis.

"Generally, disaster loans will be secured by (1) a first lien on all livestock and farm machinery and equipment purchased or refinanced with loan proceeds, (2) the best lien obtainable on crops growing or to grown, and (3) the best lien obtainable on as much of the livestock and farm equipment of value owned by the applicant as the loan approving official determines necessary.

Under these policies, an eligible citrus grower will be able to borrow for authorized purposes in connection with his operation and his loan will be scheduled for repayment over a period consistent with his ability to repay.

Real estate security will be taken when advances are being made principally for improvements to real estate and in other selected cases when this type of security is required to protect the Government's interest.

"The authority and responsibility for the administration of the disaster loan program has been delegated to the Farmers Home Administration and applications for such loans will be made at the local county offices of that Administration. Disaster areas will be announced as they are designated.

"In the meantime, county supervisors and other personnel of the Farmers Home Administration will be glad to explain the program to any interested party."

Days Of 1849 To Be Observed At Visalia Fiesta

M., Friday, June 3.

Old-timers who intend to attend 12 noon luncheon should make reservations with the Visalia chamber of commerce which is providing the luncheon to be served by the Native Daughters of the Golden West.

Judging for horsemanship in the Rodeo Sweetheart contest will be held at the high school bowl, 2:30 P. M., Friday, and personality judging will take place following the evening Sweetheart dinner in the Hotel Johnson.

Saturday's events will start with the 10:30 A. M. Forty-Niner parade. Awards will be offered in following parade divisions: sheriffs' posses, saddle clubs, forty-niner theme floats, working cowboys and cowgirls, fancy cowboys and cowgirls, riding pairs, long line teams, teams hitched to vehicles, old time vehicles, ancient cars, decorated cars, commercial theme floats and comic entries. A grand prize will be given for the best entry in the parade. High school bands from this area will provide music.

Deadline for Sweetheart & parade entries has been set for 5 P. M., May 19. Rodeo tickets may be purchased at 209 E. Main Street, Visalia.

Early variety cherries are now being harvested in California.

John Guthrie Tells Of Cattle Industry Growth

Development of the cattle industry was discussed at last week's meeting of the Porterville Kiwanis club by John Guthrie, White River cattleman and past president of the California Cattlemen's association.

Mr. Guthrie stated that the cattle business is one of the oldest businesses in California, starting along the coast in the early days of the state when cattle were valued chiefly for their hides and tallow.

The industry started in the San Joaquin valley when range cattle drifted in from the coast ranges and the industry gained a foothold because of the excellent valley feed conditions in those days.

At the present time, Mr. Guthrie said, the livestock industry is one of the major businesses of the nation; ranking third from the standpoint of value, and, if poultry is included, ranking as the first industry of the nation.

He said that a large capital investment is necessary in production of cattle, outlay ranging from $450-$500 per head of cattle owned. He also called too attention the fact that the livestockman is dependent upon weather and market conditions, over which he has no control, and that meat is one of the most perishable products on the market.

Mr. Guthrie stated that the meat packer, operating on a small margin of profit, is necessary in the handling of processing of meats; that two thirds of the meat produced in the nation comes from west of the Mississippi river, yet two thirds of the nation's meat consumption is east of the Mississippi.

He said that one half of one per cent of meat marketed is prime; 24 per cent choice and good and the balance below good. He said wholesalers want all types of meat and all types of cattle to take care of varied market demands.

HAROLD G. RAINWATER, recently-appointed secretary of the Tulare county chamber of commerce. Mr. Rainwater has 12 years of chamber of commerce and public relations experience; has an MA degree in economics from the University of Minnesota and recently finished work on his Ph.D.

FLOOD CONTROL FUNDS FOR STATE

Indications are that California flood control projects will receive between $32,000,000 and $39,000,000 in federal appropriation for the fiscal year of 1949-1950.

High Temperature Effects On Poultry Summarized In Report From College

By WILBOR O. WILSON
Assistant Prof. of Poultry
Husbandry, Experiment Station
Davis, California

The chicken is a nonsweating animal. It maintains a high body temperature of 106 degrees F. to 107 degrees F.

It is possible to lower the hens body temperature 30 degrees below normal before death occurs, yet body temp. only six to eight degrees above normal results in death. This indicates that the hen is living near the top of her temperature range.

At air temperatures of 80 degrees F. the body temperature of the hen starts to rise and by the time air temperature reaches 100 degrees F. to 105 degrees F. the hens begin to die of heat prostration. This rise may be observed in the accompanying graph. The data for the graph were obtained from hens kept in a climatic chamber at Davis.

Harmful Effects

Certain sub-lethal air temperatures have harmful effects. Even at as low a temperature as 70 degrees F. there is a slight reduction in egg size and the shells become thinner. It is not until a higher temperature is reached—80 degrees F.—that this difference becomes noticeable. An increase in water consumption occurs when the air temperature reaches 70 degrees F. and above this the droppings become watery. The hens begin to pant at about 80 degrees F. in effort to keep down their body temperature. In spite of these efforts the body temperature starts to rise. Feed consumption is reduced at this point. Hens begin to lose weight when exposed for a period of time to temperature in excess of 80 degrees F. One of the major factors involved in the summer decline of egg production appears to be temperature.

Increase Load

In sweating animals the heart has an increased load in hot weather because the blood is sent to the capillaries near the surface for cooling. In chickens there is no such mechanism for cooling. In fact, the heart rate is decreased by temperatures of 85 degrees F. and over. The heart rate is used in studies because it is a sensitive indicator of physiology-on-the-whole.

Egg production is decreased by continued exposure to 90 degree F. air temperatures. There is a breed difference in this susceptibility. The heavy breeds such as New Hampshires and R. I. Reds are more susceptible than White Leghorns. A difference of about 10 degrees in susceptibility to heat has been observed in experiments when Leghorns did not show a decline in egg production until the temperature reached 100 degrees F.

Hens May Die

When the air temperature reaches and remains for eight hours or more at 100 degrees F. some hens will die from heat prostration. The overly fat birds seem to be the hardest hit. If air temperature is increased to 105 degrees F. the time required for death to occur is much less. High humidity aggravates the effect of high temperature. The observations reported here were obtained at relative humidities below 50 per cent.

The physical reaction of the hen to 70 degrees F. and 100 degrees F. are shown in the illustration. At 100 degrees F. the hens are visibly distressed; they pant and have increased respiration. Their water consumption is increased 35 per cent. The wings are held loosely from the body and the hens lie on the floor with their wing on the underside raised in an attempt to cool themselves.

Air Movement

Air movement may or may not help to reduce the effect of high temperature on hens. Generally, if the air temperature is below 100 degrees F. increasing air movement appears to be beneficial. Above this temperature the deleterious effects are accentuated by increasing air movement. More work needs to be done on this phase.

The problem that faces the poultryman is to keep feed consumption up and temperature down. Experiments were conducted on the feeding of iodized casein as a means of preventing a decline in egg production due to high temperatures. It has been reported by research workers in other states that iodized casein was beneficial but that was not confirmed in experiments at Davis.

Dubbing Effects

The effect of dubbing—the removal of combs and wattles—was investigated to see if it would influence the birds' ability to withstand high temperature. No differences were observed. It is all right to dub birds if dubbing is needed for other reasons.

The houses need to be cooled when air temperature reaches 90 degrees F. if egg production is to be maintained and to prevent losses. Birds kept on wire are more susceptible to high temperature than birds kept on the floor. Commercial poultry raisers cool their houses by using roof sprinklers. A mist spray is also used by some growers inside the house. This is for the purpose of cooling by evaporation. The efficiency of the cooling is increased by air movement.

Trials At Davis

Trials were conducted at Davis and in the Imperial Valley with evaporative coolers. It was found that the house could be effectively cooled by this method. The hens were more comfortable; laid a few more eggs than did hens in the uncooled houses. The expense of buying and operation should be paid for by increase in the number of eggs and/or the number of birds kept alive. In some years at Davis the expense seemed to be justified while in other years it did not.

The spray method of cooling poultry houses is to be recommended instead of the use of evaporative coolers. Further investigation is needed before unqualified recommendations can be made.

First cantaloupes are expected to be picked this week in Imperial valley.

OFFICIAL CAR

An added feature of the Live-stock show and fair in Porterville last Friday and Saturday—as far as the fair board of directors was concerned—was the presentation of an official car for use during the two-day show.

The car, a very fancy red Jeepster, was provided by "Rags" Ragsdale and Don Farmer of Farmers Fractor and Equipment company and fair officials obliged by putting something more than several miles on it.

Free Butchering

O. E. Moorehead, Porterville custom butcher, added an important touch to the fat stock sale that featured the second annual Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community Fair when he offered to butcher, without charge, animals purchased at the sale.

Several purchasers accepted the offer and Mr. Moorehead had a fine array of top beef hanging in the cold room of Bestway Foods in Porterville early this week.

Stocks of rough rice on hand in California warehouses and mills totalled 2,379,000 bags on May 1.

FAT STOCK SALE WAS A HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL EVENT

Highly successful, from any angle that one cares to look at it, was the junior fat stock sale that featured the second annual Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community fair held on the Porterville high school grounds last Saturday.

The sale was successful because of several factors: Bidding was brisk; prices were good in that they offered a premium to Future Farmers and 4-H club members who sold stock, yet, at the same time, were not so high that a buyer had to pay more than the stock was worth and because the persons who bid at the sale were willing to pay the premium price for premium livestock that is necessary to make a "hot" sale.

Although a number of committeemen, including Joe Menne, Vernon Gill, Cyrille Faure and Freeland Farnsworth contributed considerable time and effort toward the sale, credit should also go to Rolla Bishop, sale chairman, who, through cooperation of a number of Porterville business men, started the sale with enough authorized bids "in his pocket" to keep the sale rolling along in good shape.

Add to this the cooperation of the California Chain Stores association, the cooperation of Cadwell-Martin buyers from Hanford, the offer of Bestway Foods and Jones Locker service of Porterville in offering free locker space to buyers who needed it plus the fact that stock sold was tops from every angle, and you have the basic elements that made the sale such a success.

And credit should also go to these buyers who really kept the bidding hot: Chinese Tea Garden, J. J. Newberry company, B-J Farm Service, Commercial Tire service, Porterville Monumental Works, Ayers Hill of Madera, Herman Matzke, Anselmo Drive In, Food Mart, Jones Locker Service, Safeway stores, Berkshire's Palm cafe.

Porterville Hardware company, Marks Tractor and Truck company, Camp Nelson, A Demetriff, Sheela Sales and Service, Clyde Carlisle, Halford market, Farmers Exchange, Charles Easterbrook Dr. Robert Karstaedt, Cadwell-Martin, Rolla Bishop, K. L. Biggs, Paul Moore.

C. R. Williams, J. C. Penney company, J & J Meat market of Delano, Village market of Springville, Ralph Gould, Wilbur Dennis, D. Grigsby, Terra Bella Meat Market, Cyrille Faure, Wilbur Scranton, Joseph Faure and Max Crumal.

To these men and business firms should go the credit for a sale that contributed greatly to a successful livestock show and fair.

Chain Store Official Enjoys Livestock Show

Appreciation of the second annual Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community fair was expressed this week in a letter to fair directors from George N. Tucker, agricultural counsel for the California Chain Stores association, who spent two days at the fair assisting with the junior fat stock sale.

Mr. Tucker further states: "I hope that I will have the pleasure of working with you again next year and that the sale will be equally successful."

FREE LOCKERS

The Terra Bella market, in Terra Bella was another firm that contributed to the second annual Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community Fair, offering free locker service to Terra Bella district residents who needed it and who purchased fat animals at the fair's junior stock sale.

A similar offer was made in the Porterville district by Jones Locker service and Bestway Foods.

BY HARRY BRITTON

A letter received from Till Goodan, nationally known western artist and who designed the attractive cover on the Porterville Roundup program, complimented the two day rodeo staged by the Orange Belt Saddle club and I quote in part, "Your rodeo was 'Tops' and I enjoyed every minute of it. I've been around these shows for more than 30 years and have seen very few that fired as smoothly as the Porterville Roundup." Thanks Till we can use a few of those platitudes.

The directors of the Second Annual Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Community Fair and Patrons' Day, deserves a hand for a great show. Junior stockmen received a total of $8,186.79 from the fat stock auction. Forrest Martin proved to be the champion junior horseman and won the pure bred Arabian colt given by Donald Jones. The Canterbelles, a group of girls under 18 and directed by Tony Faure drew a big hand and deserves it.

Our Porterville "Packers" are doing alright. They have met all the teams in the league, with the exception of Las Vegas and appear to have a sound ball club. Eddie Wheeler, manager of Mexicali told the writer that in his opinion the "Packers" would be team to beat. As I am scattering this idle chatter our clan leaves for Salinas for a three game series with the Colts and from there have to travel 556 miles to El Centro for a three game series. But the recreation of the games will be resumed by KTFP so we shall be able to follow the fortunes of our club while on the six day road trip.

PACKERS

Porterville's Packers left Wednesday evening for Salinas, where they will play a three-game series with the Colts, after dropping a 2-1 series to the Mexicali Eagles in Porterville this week.

The Packers took the Mexicali club 8-7 in the opener Monday night when they staged a four-run rally in the ninth inning, but lost close decisions the following evenings, 4-2 and 9-7.

After the Salinas series, the Packers journey to El Centro for a three-game go, then return to Porterville May 26 for another series with Mexicali.

SHOOTIN' NEWS

Ever have a desire to own a cannon? If so, the .375 H & H Magnum is your meat. The .375 stands for bullet diameter and the H & H for Holland and Holland, English Gun Makers. With its heaviest bullet, the 300 grain it hits a blow of more than two foot tons. With that big 300 grain bullet it hits both ways, the recoil being 33 1/2 foot pounds or more than twice that of a 30-06 shooting a 180 bullet.

This caliber is about the biggest thing made by our gun factories in this country. Winchester chambers for it in the bolt action model 70. Although we consider this cannon large in our country our British cousins consider it only a small bore rifle. They shoot everything including .450s, .465s, and .470s. Of course it could be that African Lions, Buffalo and Elephants are slightly harder to kill than our small American game.

Winchester claims to have sold plenty of these big berthas in this country, but who in the heck buy them I am not sure. I suspect however, that the boys that hunt the Kodiak Bears in Alaska are the best customers.

From what I have read of those big Bears I think that I too might like one of those cannons when facing said bear at 25 yards. They seem to most generally to shoot at a fairly close range and are usually found in brushy or dense growth areas. These huge beasts take a lot of killing and without doubt the .375 is the best American gun we have for the job.

Davis-Trained Men Are Available

Full particulars on the training and experience of 50 graduates of the University of California's College of Agriculture at Davis who are seeking year-round agricultural employment are now available at the Porterville office of the California Department of Employment, it was reported this week by Manager Robert Carle.

"Employers in agriculture and allied industries who need well trained people for full-time employment are invited to review the qualifications of these applicants in the Department of Employment office," Carle said. "These graduates are trained in farm management, dairy operation, horticulture, and animal husbandry. Some are interested in working on dairies, livestock farms, orchards and grain ranches, or in industries related to agriculture. Most are World War II veterans and many have had practical farm experience."

The employment office manager pointed out that these applicants, who will be available for employment about June 15, have selected agriculture as their life work and are seeking employment in which they can use the skills and knowledge they have acquired through training and experience.

Afternoon program will include an address by T. R. Nickel, Tulare county school superintendent; informal talks and singing.

15 Per Cent Cotton Cut

Cotton acreage amounting to 15 per cent of 1948 plantings were accepted as 1950 and 1951 allotments at a meeting of the Western Cotton Growers association held last week in Bakersfield.

Under this program, California cotton for the two years would run about 680,000 acres for each year. Further negotiations for later allotments are still under way in Washington.

A similar proposal was accepted by southern cotton growers meeting recently in Memphis, Tennessee.

JOHN SWANSON, violinist, who will appear with Ann Lumsden of Springville in a concert to be presented next Wednesday evening, May 25, in the Porterville high school auditorium. Mr. Swanson, son of the Gus Swansons of Porterville, is now head of the music department of Delano elementary schools.

Mr. Swanson will present "Concerto in E Minor," Mendelssohn and "Frasquita," Lehar. His accompanist will be Betty Gardner.

After hearing Mrs. Lumsden rehearse, Lauris Jones, noted southern California choral leader and director of the Porterville Community chorus, said, "Music lovers in Porterville and surrounding communities are in for a real treat at Ann Lumsden's concert on May 25. I heard most of the selections and found them musically very satisfying and extremely enjoyable."

Mrs. Lumsden's concert is sponsored by the Springville chamber of commerce, however, all proceeds go to the artists presenting the program.
